No Universal Remedy

has yet been discovered; but, as at least four-fifths of human diseases have their source in Impure Blood, a medicine which restores that fluid from a depraved to a healthy condition comes as near being a universal cure as any that can be produced. Ayer's Sarsaparilla affects the blood in each stage of its formation, and is, therefore, adapted to a greater variety of complaints than any other known medicine.

Boils and Carbuncles.

which defy ordinary treatment, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla after a comparatively brief trial

Mr. C. K. Murray, of Charlottesville. Va., writes that for years he was afflicted with boils which caused him much suffering. These were succeeded by carbuncles, of which he had several at one time. He then began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking three bottles, the carbuncles disappeared, and for six years he has not had even a pimple.

That insidious disease, Scrofula, is the fruitful cause of innumerable com plaints, Consumption being only one of many equally fatal. Eruptions, ulcers, sore eyes, glandular swellings, weak and wasted muscles, a capticious appetite, and the like, are pretty sure indications of a scrofulous taint in the system. Many otherwise beautiful faces are disfigured by pimples, eruptions, and unsightly blotches, which arise from impure blood, showing the need of Aver's Sarsaparilla to remedy the evil. All sufferers from blood disorders should give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a fair trial,—avoiding all pewders, ointments, and washes, and especially cheap and worthless compounds, which not only fail to effect a cure, but more frequently aggravate and confirm the diseases the are fraudulently advertised to remedy.

A Lively Bit of Experience Down in Florida-Rapid Retreat from a Wounded Mother Alligator-A Shot Just in

Have you ever enjoyed an alligator hunts If you have not my experience may be interesting. Before starting out exciting sport. I found it particularly so. The other day we chartered a steam launch for the trip. Our party consisted of five, who had never seen an alligator in his native home, and the captain of the launch, who was an old sportsman in alligator hunting. We were armed with good rifles, and had a full supply of ammunition. Our destination was Lake Cv press and Cypress river, where reports said the alligators were plentiful. The trip across the lake was very fine, and in the course of an hour we arrived at the mouth of Distan canal, which connects the Cypress lake with Cypress river, and is about ten miles long. It is cut through a country of rich tropical growth. In an hour and a half we reached a smaller lake, and on the opposite side was the wished for Cypress river. Our trolling line had resulted in a fine mess of fish. Finding a good camping ground we landed, built a fire and began cooking the catch, which, with our other stores, furnished an excellent meal.

We then pushed our way up the river, and were soon among the alligators. The first we saw was a good sized creature over eight feet long, and I am not likely to forget it for some time. The animal lay apparently asleep on the bank among captain raised his rifle and blazed away. His aim was good and the ball struck the right eye. Instead of making for the water, as wounded alligators generally do, the creature lay quite still. We all be lieved it dead, and working the boat to shore, we leaped on the bank with a shout of victory. One of the party and myself caught the prize by the tail and endeavored to pull it further up the bank while we hailed our companions. But the alligator was not dead. With one flip of the tail it sent us heels upwards in less time than it takes to write the fact. The rest of the party began to beat a hasty retreat toward the boat while I was picking mythe creature lay quite still.
